

Update: Specific Online SEND Resources from Oak Academy

You may have heard that from Monday 4th April the online resources from the DfE will have a specific SEND section.

The Oak Academy originally launched this site for the DfE with no specific SEND resources but I am pleased to say that the SESL group (South East and South London Special Teaching Schools) were able to have an input into rectifying this.

This has been pulled together in only a few days and content will increase over time.

Go to the main site, click on 'specialist' at the top right corner or use this link to go straight to the specialist page.

You will want to explore the resources and content carefully and adjust them to fit the developmental and other needs of your pupils but they provide a useful starting point, particularly for pupils with more complex needs in both mainstream and special schools.
